

When we say we're your voice in Washington, we really mean we're her voice in Washington.

We're the Financial Services Institute. You may know us as the advocacy and lobbying organization for independent broker-dealers and financial advisors. But we're really the advocacy organization for babies, toddlers, teens, parents, and seniors. Teachers, writers, artists, engineers, and executives. Small businesses and big dreamers, early adopters and late bloomers, new graduates and old hands. Sounds a lot like your clients, doesn't it?

You help ensure their future. We help ensure their future with you. If you're not a member, please join now. If you are a member, please tell your clients. They need to know they have a voice in Washington.
